Have you noticed the greening of weeping willows and reddling of maples as they welcome the coming of Spring?

Flea Beetle control in the tobacco plant bed is an often overlooked production practice.

There are three recommended insecticides for getting the job done -- Di-Syston 15% granular at ½ lb. per 100 sq. yards, Parathion 1% dust at ¾ lb. per 100 sq. yards or Orthene 75% SP at 2 teaspoons per gallon of water applied at 3 to 6 gallons per 100 sq. yards.

The Di-Syston may be applied before seeding the bed by discing in. This treatment would probably suit most growers best. If Di-Syston is applied after plants are ½ - 1 inch in diameter it should be watered thoroughly.

According to a North Carolina survey more than ½ of the state's tobacco plants are grown under plastic. Clarence Carson has been particularly successful in this county growing plants under perforated plastic. I know of one source of these covers, but there are probably others.

If plastic covers are used, plants are ready for transplanting in 60 days; nylon covers require 70 days and if cotton covers are used, count on 90 days.

A new wheat called Potomac has been released, but it has a tendancy to lodge. We don't anticipate recommending it even though it has a 4 bushel yield increase over Blueboy and Arthur.

It's time to get the cold, hardy vegetables started: cabbage, onions, lettuce, beets, peas, radish, and greens.

Don't overlook a heavy application of 10-10-10 to the asparagus bed and be sure to spray with simazine to control weeds.

There are at least five herbicides that can be applied to lawns to control crabgrass, foxtails and goosegrass. You'll need to treat no later than March 15; come August you'll be glad you did.

* * *

Don't overlook the Tobacco Exposition at Clarksville March 10 and 11. Although it's keyed for flue-cured tobacco producers, other tobacco growers will find helpful information.

The County Dairy Association has developed a series of interesting programs for 1976. The summer meeting will be on the E. W. and Dan Carson Farm at 6:30 p.m., July 24. There will be a tour of their new facilities and a cookout at the lake. This is a family affair.

Then, on November 8 there will be a program for dairymen and their wives at Maudes Restaurant with Dr. George Hawkins of the VPI Agronomy Staff discussing forage nutrient requirements.

tox Garment Co.

Pictures of other contestants will be published in the Times-Virginian in the next issue.

The MISS APPOMATTOX PAGEANT is again being sponsored by the Appomattox Woman's Club because the members believe the pageant provides a valuable contribution to the community and to the young ladies who will enter the competition. Also important is the fact that it will provide the opportunity for the girl who is the winner of the local pageant to continue to seek scholarship awards at the Miss Virginia Pageant, which will aid her in obtaining an education at the college of her choice.

"This will be a community endeavor and we in the Appomattox Woman's Club are sure all in the community will participate to insure its success," Mrs. Hudson said in making the announcement.

Plaques Presented Angus Producers

Plaques were presented producers of the top performing Angus, Polled Hereford and High Performing group of three or more bulls by William A. Hunter, Vice President, Farmers National Bank.

Mr. August Purdum, Manager Yatton Farm, accepts the plaque for the top performing Angus bull that weighed 607 pounds at weaning, gained 3.11 pounds on test and weighed 1055 at a year of age.

Mr. L. C. Allen accepted the plaque for his son C. K. Allen who had the top performing Polled Hereford bull. This bull weighed 742 pounds at weaning, gained 2.93 pounds per day on test and weighed 1184 pounds at a year of age. This bull was retained by the owner for use in his herd.

The high performing group of bulls was owned by R. S. Smith III, of Charlestown, West Virginia and is the first time an out-of-state breeder has received a performance award. His consignment gained 2.82 pounds on test and had an average yearling weight of 1016 pounds.

Young Homemakers To Meet
